Legislative Candidates.

FOR HYDE COUNTY.

Senate—Senj. Eborn & Thos. Spencer.
Commons—James Wilkins, Mathias Cro-sel & Marvill Wilkinson.

WHEAT CROPS.

We have much pleasure in stating that the Wheat crops in Hyde, are this year uncommonly abundant.

On the 9th ult. at Chambersburg, (Penn) was witnessed a storm of hail, as to violence and size of the hail, unparalleled in history; much of which, measured from six to eleven inches.

At Philadelphia orders have been received from the Navy Department to lay down the keels of two seventy fours.

From the 1st of January to the 1st of April there have been one thousand one hundred white members added to the Methodist Society in Baltimore.

PENSACOLA TAKEN.

The National Intelligencer states, on the authority of letters received from Georgia, that on the 21st of May, Gen. Jackson took possession of Pensacola; having made certain requisitions, which were not complied with, he carried the place by storm.

Ferdinand the adored, has at length liberated our worthy countryman Mr. MEADE—a Philadelphia Editor assigns as the cause, the following

THREE SUBSTANTIAL REASONS.

It appears (says the Freeman's Journal) from his Catholic Majesty's proclamation for the liberation of Mr. Meade, that he was impelled to this act of Justice "in consequence" of finding in array against him, the following formidable phalanx:

- 1st. The Executive Government of the United States.
- 2d. The Editors of Newspapers.
- 3d. The Congress of the United States.
- Had Mr. Meade not been immediately liberated, the following small addition would have been made to the above.
- 4th. The Navy of the United States.
- 5th. The Army of the United States.

NORFOLK, June 19.

Our correspondent in a letter dated the 8th of May, says—

"I send you a copy of the order of Mr Mead's release. It is evident that this step has been taken through fear, and not from any principal of liberality of justice. The application of our government having been presented by Mr. Erving, in terms too cogent to admit of further diplomatic shuffling, the king has yielded to the necessity of the case and discharged Mr. M. But he will now as freely imprison Mr. M'Dermot, or any other person having a legal claim to the money in deposit, if they dare ask for it."

MR. MEADE RELEASED.

So—the adored Ferdinand has, at length, made a virtue of necessity, and released Mr. Meade from his long confinement. The conduct of this miserable shadow of a king, forcibly reminds us of a fable taught us at school, where an old man, who had in vain remonstrated with an idle boy who was pilaging his apples at length resorted to the use of more potent weapons than mere words, and by "trying what virtue there was in stones," soon convinced the little thief of the danger he was in. So Ferdinand, finding that our president was tired of talking, and that he meant to act, very courteously gave Mr. Meade his liberty. Such is ever the conduct of those, who are only brave where there is no danger.

Petersburg Republican.

Roanoke again.

Every effort of the people on the Roanoke to advance the prosperity of their section of the State, has an indirect, though certain tendency, to effect the same object for Norfolk. This is a maxim which we should never forget; and it behoves us to act on all occasions as if we were perfectly sensible of its correctness. We have had so many evidences of their friendly disposition towards us, and of their decided and settled predilection in favor of Norfolk, as the natural depot for their produce, that we cannot be in doubt as to the expediency of a cordial co-operation with them in any plan for the promotion of their interests. Independent of the friendly sentiments of the people on the Roanoke towards this town, the favorable terms, the ease and dispatch with which they can get their produce to our market, would undoubtedly insure it a preference with them. Even under all the embarrassments which the trade of the Roanoke has to labor under in consequence of the unfinished state of the canals, we find that it has forced its way to us through all its present obstacles, and given us a gratifying presage of its maturity. We should be blind therefore to our vital interests, if we neglected any opportunity of strengthening a connection formed under such promising auspices.

Norfolk Herald.

[And we fearlessly add that the inhabitants on the Roanoke and in this section of the country would be much more blind, were they to agree that Norfolk or any other Port out of North Carolina should have the preference to a Port in their own state.—By uniting the Roanoke and Tar rivers, as contemplated, the wealthy independent citizens of the former, will have a more ready and easy access to the ocean via this place, than they can have by the way of Norfolk—we therefore hesitate not in saying that if the Carolina planter, properly considers his true interest and the interest of the state, he will not give to another, what is due to his own.—Ed. Recorder.]

Huzza for the Patriots!

BALTIMORE, June 23.

Capt. Jenkins from Buenos Ayres states, that the people of that place were all rejoicing in consequence of the splendid victory gained over the royalists in Chili; which news reached Buenos Ayres a few days before he sailed. Upwards of 1000 cannon were fired on the occasion, and the city brilliantly illuminated for three nights. Capt. J. has brought papers detailing the particulars; the Peruvian army of 7000 men was totally destroyed, all killed or taken and no resource left to raise another. The loss of the patriots considered, 1000 killed.—Lima is doubtless in the possession of the Chilean army.—M. C. H. Books,

A Civil Engineer.—We congratulate the friends of Internal Navigation and Public Improvements generally, on the prospect which the Commissioners of Navigation have at length, of obtaining the services of a Civil Engineer Mr. Strobe, from Fredericksburg, Va. being shortly expected to enter upon the business of superintending the works of the several Navigation Companies in this State.

The Rev. Dr. Joseph Caldwell, the President, Mr. Mitchell, Professor of Mathematics of our University, and Mr. Terry of Fayetteville, a gentleman well versed in such business, are at present engaged in making a survey of the country between the rivers Yaddin and Cape Fear, with the view of ascertaining the practicability of connecting the Navigation of the two Rivers.

The President of the United States reached the Seat of Government in the morning of the 17th inst. having left the Nonsuch thirty or forty miles below, and came up the river, unattended, except by the boat's crew which rowed him up. Thus has the President terminated the tour of observation of the waters of the Chesapeake, which his official duty devolved upon him.—The Nonsuch arrived at the Navy Yard in the afternoon.—Nat Int Bunker's Hill.—A controversy has been carried on for some time respecting the part which General Putnam had in the memorable battle of Bunker's Hill. General Dearborn stated that Gen. Putnam had no share in the glory of that day. A late Boston Patriot contains many statements from the surviving witnesses and actors on that occasion, going to confirm the facts of Gen. Dearborn's History of the Battle, and particularly so much of it as goes to show that Gen. Putnam did not then distinguish himself; however his character for bravery may be established, beyond question, by other incidents of his life.

We understand that the Mint in this city has lately coined, and has now nearly ready for delivery four hundred thousand quarter dollars!!!

FROM EUROPE.

We have late accounts from Europe, but the details afford us nothing materially interesting, very few articles having the slightest bearing on our affairs in a political point of view. Indeed, we have only discovered two, one of which announces, that Mr. Gallatin has been unable to affect a commercial treaty with France, and had consequently discontinued his communications with the French Government on that subject—the other, that a number of English officers had been ordered to return home from the continent, a serious misunderstanding being apprehended between Great Britain and the United States.!!—Pet. Died in Hyde county on the 23d ult. George D Scott, only son of Mr. Hector Scott of said county. He was a promising young man, aged about 18 years.

LOOK AT THIS

Now is the time to purchase town property while the rage continues for emigration.

THE Subscriber having already disposed of most of his property in this place, with the intention of moving to the westward, will sell on a liberal credit, or exchange for lands in the Western Country, that valuable corner Lot fronting on Blount Street 210 feet by 105 on Second Street, being directly opposite the Court House—the title is indisputable, and the situation of the Lot is high and as healthy as any in the town. Its improvements are a convenient Dwelling House with a Cellar, Pantry, two Kitchens, a Smoke House, Stable and Carriage House, also a small Dwelling House on the north part, renting at sixty dollars per annum.—The situation of this property will always make it valuable, and if rented will pay an interest equal to Bank Stock, and if not disposed of, I will rent it for a term of years previous to my leaving here.

LIKEWISE a new framed Building 16 by 20 feet, near Mr. Worsley's blacksmith Shop, may be had for what the lumber cost. AND a second hand Copper STILL and WORM, (but little worn).

MINERAL WATERS.

"With Health all taste of pleasure flies."—Gay
 The Fountains of Health are now opened at the store next to Mr. Hoyt.

THE utility of the Natural Mineral Waters has long been established by mankind, and are sanctioned by the first Medical Practitioners of every enlightened country.

The Artificial Water is found by experience to produce all the effects of the Natural Waters, as a gentle cathartic, an active diuretic, a remedy against gravelly complaints, a tonic to the system generally, and a generous cordial to the stomach and bowels. It powerfully exhilarates the spirits, increases appetite, and promotes digestion, and is without exception one of the best purgatives.

Independent of their medical virtues, they supercede the pernicious use of ardent spirits, so destructive to the health and morals of Society.

These Waters will be carefully prepared by the subscriber from the original receipts which have been approved of by Doct. Rush and other eminent Physicians in Philadelphia, and recommended by them to the public.

Wayne Academy.

THE exercises of this Institution will again commence, on Monday, the 6th of July next, under the superintendence of JAMES A. CRAIG, A. B. The present Principal Mr. Craig, has now presided over the Academy for two sessions, and such have been his care, assiduity and good management, that the duties of the Academy have advanced with regularity, and entire satisfaction to the parents and guardians of those students who have been entrusted to his care.

Those who wish that their children or wards should be prepared for our University, will do well, it is presumed, by availing themselves of this opportunity; the Principal having been educated there; and having acted some time there as Teacher. The lower classes in this School will be under the direction of Mr. RICHARD WOOTTON, a young gentleman whose talents, acquirements and correct deportment, eminently qualify him for the discharge of the duties of that station.

Board, in the most respectable families in the neighborhood, may be had at fifteen dollars per quarter.

The prices of tuition will be as follow:
 For Spelling, Reading, Writing, Arithmetic & English Grammar, per quarter $3.

For the Languages, Geography and the higher branches, per quarter $5.

The Trustees flatter themselves that the talents and experience of the Teachers—the cheapness of board and tuition—the high and healthy situation of the place—will combine to ensure this Institution that patronage to which its numerous advantages so justly entitle it.

Attest. THOS. DOUGHERTY,
Clerk House of Representatives.

To enable the Secretary of the Treasury to comply with the important requisitions of the foregoing resolution, all companies or incorporations, associated for opening roads and making canals, which they may respectively conceive, require and deserve the aid of government, are invited to furnish this Department with such information concerning their respective undertakings as is required by the resolution, and which may be necessary to bring their claims to the patronage of the government, before the Congress of the United States, at the commencement of their next session.

Where a canal or road has been commenced, the communication ought to state distinctly the dimensions of the work; the nature of the soil and face of the country thro' which it is to pass; its greatest elevation and depression, and mean level; the progress which has been made; the expense incurred, and the whole probable expense, estimated upon the experience acquired in the execution of the undertaking.

In all cases of canals, the number and dimension of the locks; the mean quantity of earth to be removed per mile; the nature and extent of the navigation to which they are to be connected, should be distinctly made known.

In every case, the facility of obtaining materials for the construction of roads, bridges and locks, should be stated. The acts of incorporation, or articles of association; the bye laws which have been enacted; the amount of the fund authorized or agreed to be subscribed; the sum actually subscribed; the amount paid in; the sum expended; the amount remaining on hand; and the means and probability of enforcing the payment of the balance should invariably be stated in every communication. And generally, every kind of information which can shed light upon the undertaking.
